

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps), Chicago District, wishes to acknowledge the assistance of Argonne National Laboratory (Argonne) in conducting this study and developing this report. Technical and project management staff from the Environmental Science (EVS) and Decision and Information Sciences (DIS) Divisions of Argonne included:

Ihor Hlohowskyj (EVS)	Lisa Durham (EVS)	Matthew Nesta (EVS)
Thomas Sydelko (EVS)	Konstance Wescott (EVS)	Ellen Moret (EVS)
James Butler (EVS)	Robert Van Lonkhuyzen (EVS)	Rebecca Haffenden (DIS)

The following Argonne staff provided internal technical review of this report:

Karen Smith (EVS)	John Veil (EVS)
-------------------	-----------------

The following staff from the Information and Publishing Division at Argonne were critical in editing and producing this report:

Pat Hollopeter	Marita Moniger	Linda Graf
Louise Kickels	Mary Fitzpatrick	Lorenza Salinas
Michelle Nelson	Suzanne Williams

The Corps would like to thank the following individuals who served as Subject Matter Experts and provided independent technical reviews of the draft and interim final reports, as well as providing information, contributing to text, or making helpful comments to this report:

Dr. James L. Coleman, Eastern Resources Energy Team, U.S Geological Survey
 Dr. John R. Halsey, Office of the State Archeologist, Michigan Historical Center
 Dr. Charles E. Herdendorf, the Ohio State University and EcoSphere Associates

Finally, the following Corps staff served as technical reviewers of this report:

Chicago District		Detroit District
Megan Hurst	Heather Henneman	Tina Kowitz	Donald Reinke
Susanne Davis	Mitch Isoe	Karen Krepps	Les Weigum
Eugene Fleming	Tzuoh-Ying Su	Terry Long	Steve Wyrembelski
Steve Gagnon	Frank Veraldi
Pittsburgh District	Buffalo District	St. Paul District
Brian Greene	Martin Wargo	Rebecca Gruber
Robert John			